

5 Unpopular Job Hunt Rules

DON'T

Send 200+ CV's without hearing back.

DO

Apply for 20 - 50 jobs, get feedback and tweak your CV as you go.

DON'T

Undervalue the importance of your LinkedIn profile.

DO

90% of recruiters search on LinkedIn.

Make sure your profile is complete.

DON'T

Go to the interview without the full context.

DO

Ask the recruiter what to expect at each stage to prepare better.

DON'T

Go to an interview without doing any prep.

DO

Learn who will be doing the interviews, and research their experience and background.

DON'T

Simply accept the 'No' after the interview and move on.

DO

Ask a recruiter for more detailed feedback after the interviews if possible.

Are there any others
you would add?

